NEW CHARGES ARE NOW MADE

Warrant Served on Shepherd, of Manila, For Mistreatment of Little Girl

MOTHER SECURING BOND

Young Man Declares His Arrest
Was a Surprise to Him

The trial of William Shepherd on the charge of assault and battery on six-year-old Pearl Angermeier, of Fountaintown, is set for trial next Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

Hitherto a charge of plain assault and battery has been resting against the young man from Manila. But a new affidavit was made and warrant served. The new charge is of a most heinous nature. The circumstances out of which the arrest arose occurred in the vicinity of the fair grounds at Shelbyville last week. The alleged mistreatment of the little girl is closely akin to sodomy, and the prosecutor experienced a good deal of difficulty in drawing up an affidavit to fit the case.

Attorney Alonzo Blair has been retained by the defendant, who shows a desire to fight the case against him. Shepherd stated yesterday morning that he was never more surprised in his life than he was when he heard the charges that had been lodged against him.

Mrs. Laura Shepherd, of Manila, was in Shelbyville yesterday morning making arrangements to furnish bond for her son. As she is not an owner of real estate, a cash bond is required. She went back to Manila to get a certified check for five hundred dollars and as soon as it is in the hands of the justice, Shepherd will be released.

BABY PARADE WAS A HAPPY EVENT

Many Squalling, Jabbering,
Crying, Laughing Children
Form in Line

The Baby Parade yesterday afternoon proved one of the most pleasing features of the Fall Festival. The parade started in front of Hunt & Kennedy's store, where entries were made, and such a clattering, jabbering bunch of anti-race suiciders, was never before seen in this city.

Some difficulty was experienced in starting off the procession, as anxious mothers insisted on rushing out to add a finishing touch to their pride and joy, and for a time there were more mothers and guardians than children in line. Then again, the scared and crying child was much in evidence, and neither threats or Castoria could pacify some of them, and they were withdrawn with reluctance.

The Royal Italian band headed the white dressed and animated, ill marching parade on a tour around the main thoroughfares. About fifteen were in line with gala decorated baby carriages containing hopefuls; this feature added much to the picture. After the parade, the children were given candies and presents, and Frank Wallace took their picture in the court house yard, and they went their way rejoicing.

Church News

The O. W. B. M. of the Ben Davis Christian church will hold an exchange in the O. M. Dale building Saturday commencing at 10 a. m.

The Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlors tomorrow evening (Friday) at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

What Maud Done To This Fellow

It's back to the tall and uncut for Lewis Etter after this week. Until three weeks ago Lewis was a hard working, unassuming quiet farmer, who worked on the Sylvester Bankert farm, south of this city, but at that time he forsook and forsook farming and gave up the plow handles and the simple life, to take up a more exciting and easier means of livelihood. He longed for the gay and festive crowds and the glare of the limelight, accompanied by the clanging of bells, the shouting of barkers, the cry of the vendors, the melody in the toy squall balloons, and all those fascinating sounds one hears around county fairs and street carnivals.

So Lewis bought a copy of the "Bill Boards," and straightforward became a full fledged street fakir. His first purchase was a moving picture outfit, but he said he could not operate it, for he didn't know any more about it than a Poland China hog knows about the dates of the Jewish holidays. Next he sunk fifty plunkers in a ball throwing apparatus, called "Maud, the Kicking Mule." He pitched the outfit on the Rush county fair grounds and managed—financially—to keep his head above water that week. The following week he marched on Connersville and a bad location put his earnings and expenditures in bad, and there was a deficit on the blue side of the ledger. But this week, oh! this week, he anticipated great things, for he would be among his own.

His "Hee Haw Maud" outfit has been kicking in front of E. L. Beer's jewelry store this week, but the blamed thing has not been kicking half so much as Mr. Etter.

At Connersville several of those Franklin county squirrel hunters dropped in on him and took him a merry clip with his proposition of "Three times—a quarter of a dollar." Then three or four of the high grass boys who hull their walnuts each fall by standing off and throwing them at a knot hole in a barn, the peeled nut dropping inside, came along and made the bell ring as often as they pleased. It proved a strenuous business for the erstwhile farmer. He has stopped his subscription to the Bill Board, and today declared he was going back to the farm Saturday evening poorer in purse, but wiser in experience—and satisfied. He lived to see the consummation of a boyhood dream—but it proved a dismal failure.

LEONA VANCE VOTED FESTIVAL QUEEN

Popular Young Lady Polled a Large Vote in the Queen Contest

The voting for the Queen of the Festival and Most Popular Children closed last night at 8 o'clock, amid a deal of excitement.

Miss Leona Vance was voted the Queen, receiving 32,915 votes, while Miss Frankie Clark finished second in the race with 17,433 votes; and Miss Daisy Beale got "third money" with 6896 votes. Miss Vance received a $325 piano, Miss Clark a music cabinet, and Miss Beale a bracelet.

Over 65,000 votes were cast in the contest, and the Uniform Rank is highly pleased with the interest taken, and the neat sum made by this novel and interesting feature.

New Castle people have a happy faculty of doing everything about right. Last night they came to the festival on a special train, about two hundred strong. They brought along their own band.

San Marino is the smallest republic in the world. It has but twenty-two square miles, but has a population of 8,900. Its annual revenues are $15,000. Its army has 900 soldiers and 150 officers.

A vast portion of Australia is virtually empty. The ratio of white population is about one to every 700 square miles.

Out of every 1,000 prison inmates in the United States, sixty-five are women.

URGED TO STICK TO FIRST LOVE

Watson Asked by Friends to Abandon Race For the Governor's Chair

AND STAY IN CONGRESS

But Local Congressman Has Not Made a Decision in the Matter

At a meeting of representative Republicans of the Sixth District at the Claypool Hotel yesterday, Congressman Watson was urged to abandon the idea of running for the governorship nomination and to stick to his first love—the Sixth District, says today's Indianapolis Star.

The arguments in favor of his remaining in Congress were put in such a forcible and convincing manner as to impress the congressman, who said that he would give due consideration to them and would announce his final decision as to his future course in politics within a short time.

Among the Sixth District leaders who met Mr. Watson at the hotel were Owen L. Carr, of Rushville, district chairman; Ed Haas, ex-clerk of Wayne county and a prominent politician in that Republican stronghold; Rudolph Leeds, publisher of the Richmond Palladium; Charles Christopher, Republican chairman of Henry county; W. E. Blakely, of Shelbyville, and Charles Hornly, of New Castle. All of these men lunched with Mr. Watson. State Chairman Goodrich "dropped in" at the noon hour and had luncheon with the crowd. Col. George B. Lockwood, secretary of the State committee, was another guest at the luncheon.

Before and after the meal there were conferences in one of the upstairs rooms of the hostelry. Ex-State Chairman Hornly did not attend the conferences, but made it plain in various ways that whatever antipathy he may have manifested toward the congressman in the past has been wiped off the slate. From the other Sixth District men Mr. Watson learned that they had come to Indianapolis expressly to urge him to stay in Congress, having heard that he was about to make up his mind as to his political plans. Mr. Leeds, who publishes the party paper at Richmond, and Mr. Haas gave him earnest assurance of support in Wayne county.

After the conference, Mr. Christopher said: "I'll bet he will decide to run for Congress."

District Chairman Carr also is quite confident that he will turn a deaf ear to the buzzing of the gubernatorial bee. Mr. Watson himself had nothing to say, beyond the promise that his position will be known soon.

HAAS MAY BE THE NEXT CHAIRMAN

Richmond Man Bids Fair to Succeed Owen L. Carr in This District

It developed yesterday, says the Indianapolis Star, that Ed Haas, of Richmond is very likely to be the next Republican chairman for the Sixth District. Owen L. Carr is not an aspirant for re-election and all of the minute and hour hands of district politics are pointing toward Mr. Haas, who is a very skillful politician and an all-round good fellow. He has not been identified in a factional way at Richmond and is considered a very good man to rehabilitate the party and lead it to victory.

The gas well which was drilled on the farm of Charles Augur, northwest of this city, is completed with a fair flow of gas.

FELL TO THE SIDEWALK STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

Perry Stiers Suffered Severe Attack Yesterday

HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, Perry Stiers, aged 60 years, suffered a stroke of paralysis on the down town streets. He was carried to the home of Joseph Stiers on North Main street, where he remains in a precarious condition.

Mr. Stiers lives in the northern part of Rush county, and is a brother of J. Milt, and Joseph Stiers, of this city.

AUTUMN SIGNS NOW APPEARING

Summer is on the Wane and
Will be off the Calendar
Soon

STORES ARE GETTING BUSY

It Was Short Summer But a Long, "Open" Fall May Bring Compensation

Now that the fair is over and the people are "sobering off" after the festivities of the week one has time to look about and ahead.

There is something in the air that tells plainly, though the sun shines brightly and the grass and leaves are still green, that says, unmistakably, that summer is gone, though the calendar says it will continue until September 21st. The late spring made the summer short, but a long and beautiful and "open" autumn will bring full compensation.

Nowhere is the changing seasons more noticeable than in the stores. Rushville merchants are always at the front and are bringing out the new fall styles in cloaks, men's suits, women's jackets, hose and other wearing apparel and the display windows about the city are taking on a distinctively autumn air. Tints and texture of all the latest sorts are on display as harbingers of that which will be correct in the next few months. The summer fabrics, already taken out of the windows, will next be superseded on the counters by autumn hits and creeds.

The month of "r's" has arrived and this will be marked by the coming of the oysters and the passing of the leaves, and with the tinting of the trees comes the tinting of the autumn display windows, when colors and more substantial fabric take the place of the summer gauzes and peek-a-boos. Then will follow in short order, the man who discarded his belt for a pair of suspenders and a vest.

LITTLE ONE SUCSUMBS

Answered the Call From Her Father's Kingdom

Death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Groves, near Falmouth, this morning at five o'clock, and took from them their little five-year-old daughter. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Fairview Christian church at 2 o'clock. Burial in the Fairview cemetery.

GRAND JURY TO TAKE OFF COATS

And Get Real Busy at the Opening Session Tomorrow Morning

FOLLOW COURT'S REQUEST

If Talk of Boasted Protection be True, Stormy Times Will Follow

It was given out this morning that the Grand Jury will take off their coats on the morning when they convene, and dig down into the trench of suspicion to learn if the rumors regarding the open violations of the law by certain saloon keepers under the veil of boasted official protection, contained any truth. If anyone is found guilty of this work, they may expect the full limits of punishment under the statutes.

Judge Sparks made plain his instructions to the jurors last Monday on this question, and on all sides citizens are peering forth words of commendation. The public feels that if there is no ground for such rumors, that fact should be known, and on the other hand if anyone is implicated in such dealing, the ax of justice should fall heavily on their necks. Newspapers throughout the State have had much to say regarding Judge Sparks' instructions. Yesterday the Greenfield Tribune published the following editorial:

"Judge Will Sparks, of Rushville, is proposing to see that the laws are obeyed in that city. A number of saloon keepers who run gambling joints have been boasting that they stood in with the officers and were immune from arrest. Judge Sparks calls such people moral lepers who violate laws, premeditatedly and continuously. He has ordered the grand jury to probe law violations to the utmost and asks that every guilty man be punished. The Judge claims that law should be enforced as laws are made to be obeyed and that by allowing some saloon keepers to violate laws while others are made to obey the law is an outrage on the men who do obey the laws as they come in contact with those who disobey and are at a disadvantage. The Judge proposes to go to the full limits of his power in seeing that the laws are obeyed. If there are any officers who wink and connive at crime they should be punished and turned out of their offices as unworthy the confidence and respect of the people."

HAD SOME REAL MOVING PICTURES

At the Penny Arcade in Which There Was Plenty of Action

The Penny Arcade on West Second street was the scene of a moving picture in real life last night.

Several stories are told of how trouble followed a noisy altercation, in which Policeman's Pea's son and two other boys figured. At any rate, one of the machines was broken, a fight followed and the man in charge of the arcade was placed under arrest and taken towards the jail, but later released. The party arrested declared the young men were at fault, and the young men claim that the fellow attacked them.

Tomorrow is Friday, the 13th. An unhappy day for the superstitious.

The Hasty-Casey case, for the possession of a house in Milroy, was tried in the squire's court in that town today. Attorney Megee and Deputy Prosecutor Newbold were employed in the case.

T. W. Worthington went Blind.

"Driven to Desperation," was the title of a little drama enacted on the public square today. T. W. Worthington has had a tough week of it, and after "pan-handling" up and down both sides of Main street this morning without "mooching" so much as one penny, he hit upon a plan to get his morning's meal in a more legitimate manner.

The honorable T. W. "bummed" a tin cup at a hardware store and on a small piece of card board had the words printed "I Am Blind." He then took up his stand at the corner of Main and Second streets, but the gods frowned on him before he could take off a cent. One of the K. of P. police, sighting the imposter on the square—who was not on the square—took him to task for attempting to work the "blind."

"Here! Here!" said the Tin Sword Constable, "what in the world are you trying to pull off, T. W.? You are not blind."

"Hain't I?" said the village rogue. "Naw," said the blue coat, "and clear off the streets before I decapitate you."

"That feller don't know his business," said Worthington, sauntering off. "I'm blind drunk, hain't I?"

BOY WAS HIT IN MOUTH

While Watching Men Throw at Babies

While standing near the baby rack kept by Albert Bacraft on Main street, watching the men throwing at the babies, Johnnie, the seven-year-old son of Fletch Conoway was accidentally struck in the mouth by a ball which was thrown by some one.

The ball was thrown with great force and the boys was knocked down and several of his teeth were knocked loose.

Additional Locals

Reports from New Castle show the decrease of gas in that section of the country in the past few weeks, which has been noticed a great deal since the cool nights this week. It is said that the residents are laying in a supply of wood and coal for the winter months as a protection in case of an emergency.

The McCann family held their tenth annual reunion this year at the home of William McCann, at Dublin, attended by sixty-five members of the McCann family from the several counties in Indiana. The next meeting of this prominent family will be held at the home of Horatio Brown in Clermont, Ind.

Word has been received from Cecil Clark who entered the West point naval academy a few months ago, that he will resign as a United States cadet. The particulars could not be learned as to why he would hand in his resignation to the government authorities, but it is known that it is his intention to give up his studies in that institution.

Lon Link and Warder Wyatt and family, returned from a five weeks' stay at Boston, Tuesday night. Mrs. Link will remain away for several weeks, and will spend part of the time in the mountains of Virginia. At Boston, they rented a cottage, and Mr. Link's son John, who is attending the Boston Technical school, enjoyed the visit with them.

Chicago Horseman: "The remaining two races both fell to members of Harrie Jones' stable. The 2:25 trot went to Hazel Grattan, while the 2:17 pace was won by Platt, Jr. Jones is doing remarkably well with Hazel Grattan. While she has been known to be a mare of considerable speed for several years she has never won a race until this season. She has been in the hands of a number of prominent drivers but the Rushville, Ind., trainer seems to have found the key to her races. He has started her in four races, was second in his first and has won his last three. She can probably trot in 2:12 today."

TO INVESTIGATE BLACKMAILERS

Deputy Prosecutor Newbold Will Air the Matter With the Grand Jury

A CRY BEING SET UP

Some Declare the Republican Worked Injustice by Agitation—To Whom? Why?

It is never considered good ethics to speak of the contemplated work of the Grand Jury or similar institutions, but at this time the public is interested in the much discussed (and disgusting) alleged organized blackmailers who are said to have been preying on victims in this county for many years, and today it was learned that Deputy Prosecutor Newbold was working along a line to get enough evidence to warrant a thorough investigation of the matter.

This bit of intelligence will be received with favor by the majority, for they realize that if one-tenth of the tales told contain a grain of truth, there is going to be a housecleaning bee in this city and county, that will probably startle the denizens.

There are some who have been bitter against this publication since the question was first agitated. They put up the inconsistent cry of it being an outrage, an injustice and totally uncalled for; if such is the case will an investigation harm anyone? Don't ever make a protest against an investigation, for your fellow citizen might suspicion that you are interested in having the matter kept under cover. Speak right out for the God-giving sunlight of publicity on all such matters; it will put you in a better light with your neighbors.

Those who have made the howl from the beginning may now rest assured that the Grand Jury will thresh out the alleged blackmailing question, and if anyone is guilty of stooping to so low a practice, they may expect to be dealt with accordingly.

SOCIETY NEWS

The Friday Afternoon club will meet with Mrs. L. L. Allen, on West Eighth street tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Allen extends an invitation to all the members to bring their children to this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Selman Webb entertained the Waneta club Tuesday evening at a seven o'clock dinner.

Mrs. Samuel Young entertained Mrs. M. R. Hull and daughter, Miss Nena, of Indianapolis at lunch today.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gillespie, of Decatur county, a bride and groom of only a few hours are spending their honeymoon in this city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Lyons, of Cherry Grove. The couple after attending the carnival and spending a few days in this city, will return to Decatur county, where they will go to house-keeping on a farm.

One of the most beautiful weddings in the history of Union township occurred last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, when their pretty daughter, Miss Lena, and Edwin G. Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Meyer, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. About fifty guests were present and witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. E. R. Scofield, of Indianapolis. The bride wore a beautiful immaculate silk gown, and the nuptial knot was tied under a beautiful decorated floral arch, to where the bride and groom marched while Miss Myrtle McBride played Mendelssohn's wedding march. After the ceremony a two course supper was served. The young people will go to house-keeping on the farm of George H. Meyer, in Union township. A reception will be tendered the bride and groom tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Meyer.

RUSHVILLE, INDIANA, SEPTEMBER 12, 1907.

Wonder if anybody really believes that ex-Governor Taylor would get a fair trial in Kentucky?

There is one advantage that comes from spending a time in other countries. Ninety-nine times in a hundred the visitors returns believing all the more in Old Glory and the possibilities that it offers to everyone under its folds.

The Frankfort Times says one reason why we have so many dangerous citizens in this country is because the lawyers and the newspapers rally around the hardened criminal and made a hero of him. Well, there is something in this, of course, but there is a cheering thought in the fact that there is not so much of it as there used to be.

If all the Democratic editors were as candid in the expression of their actual opinions as the editor of the South Bend Times, it would be a good deal healthier for the party as well as for the entire country. Take from the Times, for instance, this paragraph: "Senator Tillman gives it as his judgment that Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri will, within a few years be as reliably Republican as they have been reliably Democratic in the past. That depends altogether upon circumstances. If things are permitted to drift along as they have drifted since the begin-

HAVING GOOD EFFECT

Pure Food Law's Operation Noticeable In Indiana.

Indianapolis, September 12.—In the monthly bulletin of the state board of health for August, just issued, H. E. Barnard, state food and dairy inspector, states that there is a general improvement and a decreased percentage of adulterations in foodstuffs and drinks. Mr. Barnard says that in a state with 3,000,000 people and where food manufacturing interests are extensive, there will always be violations of the laws. The use of preservatives once so common in the meat and milk distributing industries has been almost entirely abandoned and the former practice of using false labels is no longer allowed. While a year ago summer drinks almost without exception contained preservatives, or were sweetened with saccharine, the present percentage of such adulterations is so small as to be scarcely noticeable. Of thirty-eight samples examined during the month of July, but one was adulterated.

In case the county council refuses to build the proposed wing to the courthouse at a cost of $500,000, the county commissioners probably will present another proposition for additional room, for the county must make provision for the new courts which were created by the last legislature. There is a slight possibility that an effort will be made to plan for the immediate erection of a city hall. Frederick W. Eppert, president of the city council, thinks that if a site could be secured at a price within reason, it would be possible and perhaps advisable to build a city hall at once. The council building committee is united with Mayor Bookwalter in believing that the county council's proposition is out of the question.

Inspector of Weights and Measures Wulfsen won a victory over the Standard Oil company in police court Wednesday, when Edgar Seboid, a driver for the corporation, was fined $5 and costs on the charge of selling coal oil in cans which did not bear the official seal of the inspector. Seboid, after being fined, had the case appealed to the superior court. Seboid's arrest was brought about by Inspector Wulfsen Saturday, when the city official did a Sherlock Holmes stunt in a dwelling in the western part of the city and arrested the driver. The company agreed to a finding of guilty to a plea of not guilty so the case might go to a higher court.

Lots of politics in town this week. Some few candidates for the Republican nomination for governor and many friends of some other possible candidates make the lobby of the Claypool hotel look like state convention week. And at the Grand hotel, which has been the headquarters of the Democrats for "many, many moons," the Democratic members of the last general assembly gather to swap stories.

ning of the new century, the prediction is likely to be verified. If substantial methods of procedure are adopted, new life will be injected into the party, and States named will not pass under Republican control."

We suppose there are some people who really fear that there may be an undue tendency to centralization in this government. If they will only analyze this feeling—and it is a feeling more than an opinion—they will find in most every instance that it is born of the impression made in their youth they have read of the struggles of the people against autocratic government; the tussle King John at Runnymede, for instance, and other things like that. This was when the people themselves had no privileges and when they had no political power; a time when autocratic government was the principal thing in civilization. And even Runnymede was not a fight for the people, but for the barons themselves. The drift of civilized government everywhere since then has been away from autocratic government rather than toward it—a world movement. Today there are not autocrats except in name. There is and there can be, no general movement today that has not the people back of it. As for State's rights, there is no danger of the people really suffering from infringements upon them than there is of a county suffering from the power exercised by the State.

talk about the Democratic candidates for governor and other things having to do with the destinies of their party within the state.

Fifty-four cases of typhoid fever have been reported at the city health offices so far this month. This is a large increase when it is considered that there was practically no typhoid last month. City Sanitarian Eugene Buehler has instructed his inspectors to find out whether or not the typhoid victims have recently returned from vacation trips, as the typhoid germ is often brought in from other places.

Former Attorney General Miller's correspondence campaign for the gubernatorial nomination is proving to be one of the seven wonders in the political world in Indiana just now.

Trustee Said to Be Short.

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 12.—Experts have completed the work of auditing the accounts of George S. Cobb, trustee of Concord township. It is alleged that a shortage approximating $7,000 exists. Cobb has been trustee for seven years, having been appointed by the board of county commissioners upon the death of ex-Mayor John B. Walk, and subsequently elected to the office on the Republican ticket. Within a few months, it is said, he has become the owner of a cozy summer home at Lake Wawasee, an automobile and motor boat. Stories which have been rife for several months that he was living beyond his income, led to the investigation. His friends assert that he has been careless in business matters and is a victim of circumstances. His foster father, Major J. B. Cobb, ex-County Commissioner Whetten are on his bond. It is believed they will make good the shortage and not prosecute.

Will Attack Rate Law.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12.—The state of Georgia will attack the validity of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States in the pending railroad rate litigation that has been instituted in both the state and federal courts. The two issues will be raised through demurrers now being prepared. Although questioned by many, the validity of the fourteenth amendment has never been attacked in court.

Gasoline Boat Exploded.

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—A report has reached this city that a gasoline boat, name not obtainable, exploded on the Mississippi river about eighty miles below the city. The report says that one person was killed and that a special train is bringing the injured to New Orleans. There are several large gasoline boats on the lower Mississippi which carry from a dozen to twenty passengers.

NEIGHBORS MEET

Central American Republics In Movement to Settle Their Quarrels.

IT IS QUITE ENCOURAGING

This Is Mr. Adee's Word at the Conclusion of the Initial Meeting of the Representatives of Harmony.

Only One Hitch Occured and That Involved a Point Which May Be Easily Adjusted.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Practical agreement on the main points and general good will marked the preliminary meeting in this city of the representatives of the five Central American republics to carry out the suggestion of the United States and Mexico for a permanent peace understanding. After a session of several hours the conference was adjourned until Monday next. Those who participated in the meeting and the respective governments represented by them were as follows: Senor Calvo, Costa Rica; Senor Corea, Nicaragua; Senor Herat, Guatemala; Senor Mejida, Salvador; Dr. Ugarte, Honduras; Assistant Secretary of State Adee and Senor Godoy, Mexico.

Messrs. Adee and Godoy addressed the Central American representatives in Spanish and spoke of the importance of the meeting and the benefits to be derived from an everlasting peace. At the solicitation of the Central American representatives, Messrs. Adee and Godoy remained throughout the session. None of the parties to the conference would disclose the nature of the questions discussed, pleading that no conclusions had been reached. The only point on which any hitch occurred was that relating to the protocol to be signed. Two of the representatives, under their instructions, were without authority to sign the document without first submitting it to their governments for approval. One of those who attended the meeting said it was possible that this might involve some trouble and perhaps the changing of the protocol in some important particulars. Some delay, therefore, is expected to be caused by reason of this fact. It is not doubted, however, that a permanent peace pact will be entered into.

"Everything was exceedingly encouraging," said Mr. Adee last night, "and the utmost good nature prevailed."

PERSISTENT FIRE FIEND

Second Disastrous Blaze in Louisville Newspaper Office.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—Fire which broke out late yesterday afternoon for a second time endangered the plants of the Courier-Journal and Times and threatened to destroy that portion of the Courier-Journal office building left intact after the disastrous fire of ten days ago. The flames were brought under control with a loss of $25,000. The Times was forced to abandon its last edition. The editorial rooms were rendered untenable, but the press and composing rooms, although partially flooded, were used to get out the regular issue of the Courier-Journal this morning. The origin of the fire, which, like the first one, broke out on the top floor of the building, is unknown.

New York in Funds Once More.

New York, Sept. 12.—After two failures to dispose of bonds with which to meet its obligations, the city of New York met with unexpected success in having a forty million dollar issue of 4½ per cent bonds more than five times over subscribed. There were offers for $207,158,420 worth of bonds, 886 bidders being willing to take the bonds at figures ranging from par to 110. Controller Katz declared after the sale that the average selling price was about 102. The record bid was 110 for $2,000 by Jessie Leemon.

Committee Didn't Report.

New York, Sept. 12.—Yesterday's meeting of the board of directors of the Illinois Central Railroad company was attended by all of the members except Governor Deneen and John Jacob Astor. President Harahan made a report as to the method of accounting, and it was ordered printed for the use of the directors. No report by the committee appointed July 24 on Mr. Fish's motion to discipline President Harahan and Vice President Hackstaff was submitted.

Striking "Op" Arrested.

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—A. C. Tripp, a striking operator, was arrested last night on a charge of malicious mischief for interfering with the Associated Press leased wires. He stepped up to a key which was not in use, opened it and stopped the carrying of the report while he called to the operators on the circuit and applied an opprobrious name to them. Tripp afterward admitted that he had done this.

Bank Thief Sentenced.

New York, Sept. 12.—Chester B. Runyan, paying teller of the Windsor Trust company, who confessed to stealing $100,000 of the company's funds, was sentenced to serve seven years in Sing Sing prison.

FIGURES CORRECT

Fort Wayne School Enumerators Sustained by State Examination.

FIRST REPORT VERIFIED

Superintendent Cotton's Investigation Is Said to Have Confirmed Accuracy of Enumeration.

Initial Report Was Analyzed and Test Re-Enumeration Shows It to Have Been Correct.

Indianapolis, Sept. 12.—Fassett A. Cotton, state superintendent of public instruction, has received from Fort Wayne a report containing a preliminary re-enumeration of the children of school age there. This re-enumeration was made under Mr. Cotton's direction. He will not discuss the report, but a dispatch from there states that this second enumeration corresponds very closely to the first made under the direction of the local school authorities when the total given was 16,635.

According to the dispatch, no entire re-enumeration was made under Mr. Cotton's direction. Deputy Long of Cotton's office, the man who worked on the re-enumeration of Terre Haute, has been at Fort Wayne for three weeks with every book and paper at his disposal and the services of the enumerators. He took at random 25 names from each ward and with the aid of two men that he employed himself, he visited the homes of each of these children. The result, according to the dispatch, verified the first report.

This investigation of the Ft. Wayne enumeration grew out of an investigation of Terre Haute's enumeration, which was found to be padded. Following that finding, it seems that Superintendent Cotton determined to make a preliminary test of the Fort Wayne enumeration, with the view of re-enumerating that city in its entirety. Upon the showing that Deputy Long makes to Superintendent Cotton, the school officials at Fort Wayne think that Mr. Cotton will not make an entire re-enumeration.

MYSTERIOUS TRAGEDY

Greene County Young Man Murdered on Day Set for Wedding.

Bloomfield, Ind., Sept. 12.—The finding of a note and a revolver leaves no doubt concerning the tragic death of Homer Casey in the mind of the coroner, who has returned a verdict of suicide. In a notebook Casey had written, "This pain at my heart is costing me my reason; I would rather die than suffer it again."

Bloomfield, Ind., Sept. 12.—Mystery surrounds the death of Homer S. Casey, whose body was found sitting erect in his buggy in the barn lot at his mother's home in the village of Ragsville, at daybreak yesterday morning, with a bullet wound over the left eye. Every indication points to the murder theory, although Casey is not known to have any enemies.

Young Casey, who was thirty-one years old, was to have been married last evening at 5 o'clock to Miss Anna Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Stone, of this place. Casey made his last visit before his marriage to his sweetheart Tuesday afternoon, and started to drive to his home, a distance of twelve miles, at 6 o'clock that evening.

The distance between his home and the home of his fiancée is covered in two hours, but when he failed to return at the usual time nothing was thought of it, as the roads were muddy and his mother believed it had taken more time to make the trip. At daybreak his lifeless body was found by a farm hand. The horse was hitched to the buggy just as it was when driven into the barn.

There was nothing to indicate that Casey had taken his own life. In fact, he was looking forward in happy anticipation of his approaching marriage. No revolver was found in or near the buggy nor along the road taken by Casey, and for this reason the murder theory is strongly entertained.

Homer Casey was a traveling salesman for a Chicago tailoring house, and was a member of one of the most highly respected families in the country. He was a man of excellent reputation, and if he was murdered it is believed the crime was committed by robbers and not by enemies.

Held on Murder Charge.

Greencastle, Ind., Sept. 12.—Addison Mullinex and William Fisher are held in jail in this place charged with the murder of an unidentified man who was found unconscious and dying by the roadside west of Reelsville a week ago. It is said that Mullinex and Fisher, under the influence of liquor, attacked the stranger. The men deny their guilt.

Engineer Crushed to Death.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 12.—An extra freight train was wrecked at Lloyd, five miles west of this city on the Central New England railroad, last night. The locomotive and six cars were derailed, and the engineer, Wm. B. Prince, Maybrook, N. Y., was crushed to death.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Rushville citizen.

Mason Maxey, 836 W. Third street, Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at F. B. Johnson & Company's drug store did me more good than any remedy I ever used. I had been subject to bladder trouble for years. It had become chronic and I despaired of ever getting any relief. The kidney secretions were irregular, too frequent and were accompanied by pain. Finally I thought I would try Doan's Kidney Pills, as they were highly recommended for such complaints, and went to F. B. Johnson & Company's drug store for them. They relieved me promptly of the trouble and I believe that a continued use of the remedy will completely cure me."

clisive attack upon the Arab tribesmen when in his judgment the occasion is opportune. At the same time the premier requested the general to inform him by telegraph when he thought he would take the offensive. No answer has yet been received.

Served His Brother-in-Law.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 12.—"Aunt" Lucy White, known to thousands of her race in Indiana and Kentucky, and said to be one of the oldest living negroes in the United States, died here yesterday. She was one hundred and five years old. She was a member of the household of Thomas Jefferson at the time of his death, and she could tell many interesting stories of scenes incident to the death of the sage of Monticello. "Aunt" Lucy remembered many incidents of the war of 1812, which she delighted to tell. Her body was taken to Paducah, Ky., for burial.

Shot His Brother-in-Law.

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—Sherman Long, a carpenter, was shot and killed at his home in this city last night by Frank Miller, his brother-in-law, who escaped in a buggy. Miller had had trouble with his wife, and last night went to Long's house in search of her. Long was called to the telephone just as Miller entered and the latter, after accusing his brother-in-law of harboring his wife, shot Long as he stood at the phone. Miller also shot at Jacob Long, a nephew, who rushed into the room, but the bullet missed its mark.

Series of Defalcations.

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—A $100,000 shortage has been discovered in the accounts of the state tax commissioner in this city. The police are searching for Charles E. Letten, one of the oldest state collectors in the service, who is charged with the defalcation. This is the third defalcation in six months in the Louisiana state tax department. The two previous shortages totaled nearly $100,000, and today, for the second time, there is no clue to the whereabouts of the missing official.

Echo of Election Day Tragedy.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLow.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

Confronting each other, their eyes met, and he regarded her without resentment, almost with tenderness. He felt strangely drawn toward this woman who had defied and accused him and made him see the world in a new light.

"I don't deny," he admitted reluctantly, "that things seem to be as you describe them, but it is part of the process of evolution."

"No," she protested; "it is the work of God!"

"It is evolution!" he insisted. "Ah, that's it," she retorted; "you evolve new ideas, new schemes, new tricks—you all worship different gods—gods of your own making."

He was about to reply when there was a commotion at the door, and Theresa entered, followed by a manservant to carry down the trunk.

"The cab is downstairs, miss," said the maid.

Ryder waved them away imperiously. He had something further to say which he did not care for servants to hear. Theresa and the man precipitately withdrew, not understanding, but obeying with alacrity a master who never brooked delay in the execution of his orders. Shirley, indignant, looked to him for an explanation.

"You don't need them," he exclaimed, with a quiet smile in which was a shade of embarrassment. "I—I came here to tell you that I—"

He stopped as if unable to find words, while Shirley gazed at him in utter astonishment. "Ah," he went on finally, "you have made it very hard for me to speak."

Again he paused and then with an effort he said slowly: "An hour ago I had Senator Roberts on the long distance telephone, and I'm going to Washington. It's all right about your father. The matter will be dropped. You've beaten me. I acknowledge it. You're the first living soul who ever has beaten John Burkett Ryder."

Shirley started forward with a cry of mingled joy and surprise. Could she believe her ears? Was it possible that the dreaded Colossus had capitulated and that she had saved her father? Had the forces of right and justice prevailed after all? Her face transfigured, radiant, she exclaimed breathlessly:

"What, Mr. Ryder, you mean that you are going to help my father?"

"Not for his sake, for yours," he answered frankly.

Shirley hung her head. In her moment of triumph she was sorry for all the hard things she had said to this man. She held out her hand to him.

"Forgive me," she said gently. "It was for my father. I had no faith. I thought your heart was of stone."

Impulsively Ryder drew her to him. He clasped her two hands in his, and, looking down at her kindly, he said awkwardly:

"So it was; so it was! You accomplished the miracle. It's the first time I've acted on pure sentiment. Let me tell you something. Good sentiment is bad business, and good business is bad sentiment. That's why a rich man is generally supposed to have such a hard time getting into the kingdom of heaven."

He laughed and went on: "I've given $10,000,000 apiece to three universities. Do you think I'm fool enough to suppose I can buy my way? But that's another matter. I'm going to Washington on behalf of your father because I want you to marry my son. Yes, I want you in the family, close to us. I want your respect, my girl. I want your love. I want to earn it. I know I can't buy it. There's a weak spot in every man's armor, and this is mine. I always want what I can't get, and I can't get your love unless I earn it."

Shirley remained pensive. Her thoughts were out on Long Island at Massapequa. She was thinking of their joy when they heard the news—her father, her mother and Stott. She was thinking of the future, bright and glorious with promise again now that the dark clouds were passing away. She thought of Jefferson, and a soft light came into her eyes as she foresaw a happy wifehood shared with him.

"Why so sober?" demanded Ryder. "You've gained your point. Your father is to be restored to you. You'll marry the man you love."

"I'm so happy!" murmured Shirley. "I don't deserve it. I had no faith."

Ryder released her and took out his watch.

"I leave in fifteen minutes for Washington," he said. "Will you trust me to go alone?"

"I trust you gladly," she answered, smiling at him. "I shall always be grateful to you for letting me convert you."

"You won me over last night," he rejoined, "when you put up that fight for your father. I made up my mind that a girl so loyal to her father would be loyal to her husband. You think," he went on, "that I do not love my son. You are mistaken. I do love him, and I want him to be happy. I am capable of more affection than people think. It is Wall Street," he added bitterly, "that has crushed all sentiment out of me."

Shirley laughed nervously, almost hysterically.

"I want to laugh, and I feel like crying!" she cried. "What will Jefferson say? How happy he will be!"

"How are you going to tell him?" inquired Ryder uneasily.

"I shall tell him that his dear, good father has relented, and—"

"No, my dear," he interrupted, "you will say nothing of the sort. I draw the line at the dear, good father act. I don't want him to think that it comes from me at all."

"But," said Shirley, puzzled, "I shall have to tell him that you—"

"What!" exclaimed Ryder. "Acknowledgment to my son that I was wrong, that I've seen the error of my ways and wish to repent? Excuse me," he added grimly. "It's got to come from him. He must see the error of his ways."

"But the error of his way," laughed the girl, "was falling in love with me. I can never prove to him that that was wrong."

The financier refused to be convinced. He shook his head and said stubbornly:

"Well, he must be put in the wrong somehow or other. Why, my dear child," he went on, "that boy has been waiting all his life for an opportunity to say to me, 'Father, I know I was in the right, and I knew you were wrong.' Can't you see," he asked, "what a false position it places me in? Just picture his triumph!"

"He'll be too happy to triumph," objected Shirley.

Feeling a little ashamed of his attitude, he said:

"I suppose you think I'm very obstinate." Then as she made no reply he added, "I wish I didn't care what you thought."

Shirley looked at him gravely for a moment, and then she replied seriously:

"Mr. Ryder, you're a great man, you're a genius, your life is full of action, energy, achievement. But it appears to be only the good, the noble and the true that you are ashamed of. When your money triumphs over principle, when your political power defeats the ends of justice, you glory in your victory. But when you do a kindly, generous, fatherly act, when you win a grand and noble victory over yourself, you are ashamed of it. It was a kind, generous impulse that has prompted you to save my father and take your son and myself to your heart. Why are you ashamed to let him see it? Are you afraid he will love you? Are you afraid I shall love you? Open your heart wide to us. Let us love you."

Ryder, completely vanquished, opened his arms, and Shirley sprang forward and embraced him as she would have embraced her own father. A solitary tear coursed down the financier's cheek. In thirty years he had not felt or been touched by the emotion of human affection.

The door suddenly opened, and Jefferson entered. He started on seeing Shirley in his father's arms.

"Jeff, my boy," said the financier, releasing Shirley and putting her hand in his son's, "I've done something you couldn't do. I've convinced Miss Green—I mean Miss Rossmore—that we are not so bad after all."

Jefferson, beaming, grasped his father's hand.

"Father!" he exclaimed.

"That's what I say—father!" echoed Shirley.

They both embraced the financier until, overcome with emotion, Ryder senior struggled to free himself and made his escape from the room, crying:

"Goodby, children! I'm off for Washington!"

WATCHMAN'S GOOD AIM

Bank Robber Meets His Doom in an Illinois Town.

Redmond, Ill., Sept. 12.—One of four unidentified men who attempted to rob the Redmond bank early yesterday, was killed in the exchange of bullets that followed the awakening of Night Watchman O. Snyder. The band of masked robbers rode rapidly out of town, leaving their dead comrade on the sidewalk.

Snyder was awakened by the pawing of horses, and, creeping to a window, shot the robber through the heart with a rifle. The dead man was about thirty-five years old.

The Cashier Responded.

Plattsburgh, Neb., Sept. 12.—A bold daylight robbery of the bank in the village of Manley, sixteen miles from here, occurred yesterday. The lone robber got between $2,000 and $3,000 and escaped. The robber entered the bank while Cashier Dish was alone. He handed the cashier a letter, asking that he read it. It was a demand for $3,000. When Dish looked up the robber had him covered with a revolver and threatened to shoot if the money was not instantly handed over. Dish gave him what currency was on the counter, and the bandit hurried out, mounted a horse he had left at the door, and escaped.

Imperial Yacht Standst Goes on the Rocks Off Finnish Coast.

Hango, Finland, Sept. 12.—The Russian Imperial yacht Standart, with Emperor Nicholas and Empress Alexandra and their family aboard, is fast on the rocks off Horsevapol on the coast west of this place. The yacht is apparently in no danger, as the emperor and his family remain on board.

The Standart ran upon the rocks, which were submerged at high tide, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and remained fast. A steam lifeboat from Revel on the Gulf of Finland has arrived upon the scene and seven torpedo boats which have been escorting the imperial yacht on its tour in Finnish waters, are standing by to render assistance if needed.

Stuck to Its Ruling.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The United States circuit court of appeals declined to modify its ruling of last Saturday reversing Judge Grosscup's decision in the traction litigation. An application by the Chicago Railways company for a vacation of the order of Saturday and the substitution of another which would enable the company to obtain possession of the Union Traction properties and accept the ordinance granted by the city council last spring was denied.

EVERY DAY IS A NEW BEGINNING

Then why not begin today by putting all your small bills into one, having then only one place to pay, also making your payments smaller than you are now paying. If you need some money in order to do this, let us advance it to you as we have assisted thousands of others this way. Why not you?

All that is necessary to obtain the amount needed is to own household goods, pianos, horses, wagons, etc. We have our own original fifty week plan which gives you fifty weeks in which to pay back your loan.

60c is a weekly payment on a $25 loan.
$1.20 is a weekly payment on a $50 loan.
$1.80 is a weekly payment on a $75 loan.
$2.40 is a weekly payment on a $100 loan.
Other amounts in proportion.

If in need of money fill out the blank and mail to us, our agent will be in Rushville every Tuesday and will call on you.

"The Lion and the Mouse," page three.

The condition of Mrs. Mary Green, is not encouragingly.

Mrs. William Beale, of North Morgan street, is suffering with acute indigestion.

It is an old saying that a man is as old as he feels, and he always feels as old as he is.

Mrs. Watt Perkins, of West First street, who has been quite sick, is improving nicely.

Dixie Jordan, of Connersville, and Charles Myers, of this city, are buying a number of fine horses in this county.

George Weeks, of this city, was on a street car that was wrecked in Indianapolis yesterday, but luckily escaped injury.

Every west bound car was ladened today up until noon with Rush county people who were going to attend the State fair.

If a man loves his wife he will quit smoking, at her request; but if a woman loves her husband, she will not ask it.

Miss Helen Reardon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reardon, of West First street, has a mild attack of typhoid fever.

Dr. V. W. Tevis was called to Connersville last night to marry a young couple, who favored the knot tying of the Rushville minister.

People who were up this morning to see the Daniel comet, are telling miraculous "tales" of it. Some say it had a tale longer than Sampson the big snake.

Connersville News: In a charge to the Grand jury at Rushville, Judge Sparks used some very plain language which is well worth pondering and by no one more than the saloon-keeper who conducts his business as the law directs.

Greensburg News: "A record breaking business on the Greensburg extension of the I. & C. traction line was that of Wednesday when up until two o'clock the company's cars had cradled an even six hundred passengers to the State Capital.

Word was received by Mrs. Mary Webb, of West First street, from James H. Frazee, who has been in almost every State in the South and South west that he is now located in Phillips, Mississippi. Mr. Frazee formerly lived in this city.

Dr. W. H. Smith, who always likes to see nature's wonders, was out this morning before four o'clock in order to get a glimpse at Daniel's comet, but the doctor looked in vain until Old Sol had come up from his bed in the east and smiled upon the physician, who had been disappointed.

Miss Frankie Clark, who was second in the contest for queen of the carnival wishes to thank her friends through this paper, each and everyone for every assistance given her in securing the handsome number of complimentary votes, and also for the gift of the beautiful music cabinet, with all of which she is highly pleased.

M. E. Coyne, formerly of this city, who has been in the cigar manufacturing business in Hartford City, will remove his factory here. Rushville is one of the best cigar cities in the State, as a high grade of cigars are made here, and the public generally appreciate this fact as evidenced in the large number of home made cigars consumed.

The Knecht Clothing company are taking every up-to-date means of advertising their clothing during the carnival week, and it is a good thing for the lucky man. A register book is placed in front of the store, open to one and all to sign their names therein free, which name corresponds to a number and a prize is given to the one whose name is opposite the lucky number. Last night a dollar shirt was the prize. Tonight a three dollar hat will be given away. Their displays in front are attracting the eyes of the many visitors in this city this week.

Constipation with all its manifestations of a disturbed liver and indigestion yields quickly to SANOL. It only costs 35 cents to find out the great curative powers in the Sanol Remedies. Take nothing else from the druggist. Remember it is SANOL you want. 35c and $1 per bottle at the drug store.

Eczema Cured

The public is now able to secure a nice, clean liquid for the cure of eczema. Sample bottle sent post paid to any address for 5c by Imperial Medicine Co., Houston, Texas. Who is there that has ever had this terrible disease that would not give anything they possessed to be cured? For sale by Hargrove & Mullin, Druggists.
